Isle of Enchantment

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

Kendall Ray Doane

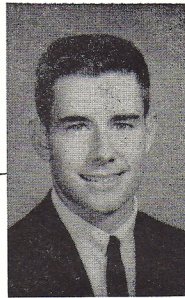

Mr. Boyd, Dr. Brill, Mr. Hoxie, Faculty Members, and Friends:

On behalf of the Class of 1963, I welcome all of you to our commencement exercises. Your presence brings dignity to our graduation. We are fortunate to be the class to commemorate the tenth anniversary of our beloved school. We are honored to have Mr. Boyd, a Regent of the University of California, as our speaker.

This graduation will be without doubt one of the memories we will always cherish with pride and joy. However, tonight we have an empty feeling blended with sadness as we leave the place where we have made friends and carried on an active part of our school lives.

We are grateful to the dedicated school staff for providing us with such a fine education, enabling us to assume the responsibilities as reliable citizens of the world, and for helping us gain the necessary requirements for employment.

Within a decade many students came under the excellent influence and inspiration of the people who gave their best to the students and who also developed one of the finest residential schools for the deaf in our country. As you were determined to help us, we are determined to reflect glory and honor upon our Alma Mater.

MEMORIES THAT LIVE AGAIN

Christopher Howard Hunter

Honored Guests and Friends:

Much of what I am today I owe to my parents and to the exceedingly fine people here on the campus who have encouraged me since I first arrived at C.S.D.R.

During the first days I soon realized how little I knew. In such a bustling school where every minute counted, I was both amazed and apprehensive at all there was to do and to learn. I made up my mind to work hard, to be alert, and to aim high.

As time went by I became accustomed to life in a residential school. I was eager to do well in all the things the school offered me. Education became a pleasure. It was not just subjects one had to take in the classrooms, but much more. Science experiments and working problems in mathematics were much the same as performing tricks of magic. In the study of history I was transplanted into the glorious past and it made me feel more proud than ever to be an American. Reading furnished me colorful dreams.

Writing in English classes gave me the tools with which to express myself more clearly.

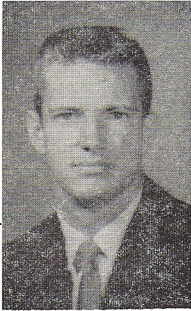

In the vocational department I was fortunate to train in several different areas. The things I have learned have provided a good foundation for the skills I am sure to use in the future.

At first I understood nothing about the importance of taking care of my health and how much physical education could help me. Basketball, especially, led me to understand all sports, the teamwork involved, good sportsmanship, and the necessity for keeping in good physical condition.

Dormitory living, which was hard to take at first, became fun. I learned much about social living - to share, to understand, and to respect other people's thoughts and rights. I enjoyed participating in extra-curricular activities and matured by being given responsibilities.

With such a wonderful staff who understand and are interested in the general welfare of the deaf student, one cannot help but grow and expand into a better person physically, mentally, and emotionally.

To all of you who have helped make me what I am today, I would like to take advantage of this memorable moment and say, "From the bottom of my heart, Thank You!"

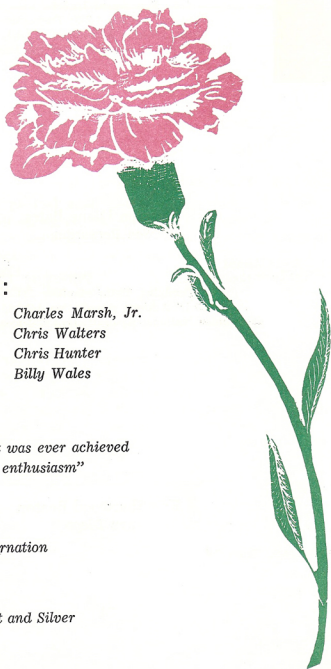

ADDRESS OF FAREWELL

Billy Russell Wales

Mr. Boyd, Dr. Brill, Mr. Hoxie, and Friends:

Our commencement, to which we have long been looking forward, is almost over. Soon we must stand on our own feet. As we go forth to new experiences we shall remember our motto, "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm." We know that we will have tougher challenges to encounter but we are grateful for the excellent training you have given us to help us face such challenges. Without fear we will tread uncertain paths seeking our goals. All that you have taught us will become the golden key to unlock the door of the future. In any success you will actually be a part of our triumph.

It is impossible to describe the deep feeling of thankfulness we have for what you have done for us, and on this night of nights our sentiment is far beyond any appropriate words. However, we wish to express our sincere appreciation to you for everything. Whatever road each of us will follow, our Alma Mater will never be forgotten. It is with sorrow that we bid you an affectionate farewell.

Gift

The officers of the Class of 1963 present a binding machine to Dr. Richard G. Brill as its gift to the school. The binding machine was used to bind our yearbook. It is hoped that it will be used to bind many of our school publications.

Class Prophecy

During World War II a great number of American war babies were born. Among them many were affected with deafness. Fortunately, a school for the deaf was established in Riverside, California in 1953. Many Southern California war babies enrolled. In 1963 they graduated. In the year of our nation's second century of independence our old sponsors, Miss Musmanno and Mr. McGarry, decided to check on how the members of the Class of 1963 were getting along. They presented to an electronic mental device, in Los Angeles, a list of the members of the Class of 1963 and requested information on them. They received this pamphlet:

Drs. Kris Beaton and Joe Rafferty: inventors of a powerful telescope-television screen — Adrienne Cleva: a dress designer in Italy and hiring Joan DeWitty in her power sewing plant — Frank Longbotham and Diane Bates: co-owners of Hollywood's foremost dance studio — Derry Keeshan: actor, director, producer, scene designer, and camera operator at Keeshan Bros. Studio, with Paul Setzer in the leading role of the Dr. Kildare television series — In a Los Angeles restaurant, Earl Hafer: banjo player, also Sue Dymond and Lynda Foshee: cigarette girls — Bobby Skedsmo: a playboy who entertains girls by the bus load — Patty Davis: a supermarket clerk and recipient of $3098.00 for saving a millionaire from a bug — Margaret Holcomb: a model for Life, Sunset, Look, and Post magazine — Judy Huhn: world's greatest winning jockey disguised as a boy — Francine Lauer: receiving millions of compliments for her beautiful operatic voice singing "Purr-purr" — Linda Lewis: fastest furniture mover and chief foreman of all Bekins Companies — Beverly Mason: successful Girls' Figure Gymnasium owner boasting a diet machine — Pandy Thorsell: pro-bowler winner against male opponents — Mona Wingfield: librarian at Huntington Hartford Library and also the gardener — Mary Jane Nelson: employer of huge offset printing plant using robots, and only employee printing World's Daily newspaper — Virginia Polich: produces cleanest clothes in town's Chinese cleaning plant — Susan Pollock: finest post office clerk, not using maps or scales but her memory of postal zones, costs, and weights — Bonnie Witsaman: America's most trustworthy keypunch operator, never making a fraction of a mistake — James Foster: New Yorker managing Mad magazine, books, and toys, with Pat O'Neil as his comic book salesman — Charles Marsh: undefeated rich lawyer protesting in Supreme Court for an innocent intelligent chimpanzee; and wife, Jean Jones, and their seven children live in a marble mansion — Don Billings: best Buick dealer on Hollywood Boulevard — Kendall Doane: established Doane College for the Deaf; president and professor of modern languages — Orlin FitzHenry: prospecting for rocks in Death Valley — Dan Golden: sells televisions and edits TV program schedules — Monty Hall: African safari owner, hunting only with a pocket knife — Gordon Johnson: painter transposing into modern art famous works as Mona Lisa, Blue Boy — Sidney Kaufman: greatest Sherlock Holmes detective in Scotland Yard — Patrick Parsley: Los Angeles Rams quarterback making his team champ of National Football League with thirteen straight wins — David Pastorino: owner of ten hot rod winners and Hot Rod magazine publisher — Eddie Rogers: published Rogers's English Dictionary, ten times better than Webster's dictionary — Frank Scolaro: rookie Yankee pitcher, struck out 27 Pirates in single game — Billy Wales: owner of Taste Freeze ice cream store, and his own sign painter — Dr. Chris Walters: orthodontist and inventor of cheap, permanent false teeth — Shirley Brown: just received Doctor's degree at Medicine University and establishing her own drug store selling only pills — John Smithson: owner of Eastman-Smithson Camera Co. where Chris Hunter tests new polaroid color film which automatically develops, trims, coats, and ejects the print in seconds — Tom Henes: chauffering millionaire, Joan Hersh, to her various Los Angeles companies — Mary Ellen Grandfield: dancer at Las Vegas Golden Nugget where Paula Courtright is hair dresser — Clair Benham and Carl Vasquez champion wrestlers for AAU — Cathy Blood broke Wilma Rudolph's 100 yd. dash record — Linda Cummings: in disguise, plays basketball for the Los Angeles Lakers — Gall Alvarez, Lana McGuire, and Marilyn Nitchman: in Peace Corps in Ankara, Turkey — Susan Swift: married and mother of four darling children — Irene Acevedo: highly paid Spanish dancer — Shayne Waddell: top secretary at Riverside IBM Co. — Greg Brown: owner of Brown Surfing Supply Co. in Hawaii —

Our sponsors went home happy and proud that all were successful adults.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1963 of The California School for the Deaf in the area of Riverside, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby, on the tenth anniversary of our school, make, publish, and declare this our Last Will and Testament.

Frank Longbotham, Monty Hall, and Greg Brown give a gavel to Dick Ramborger, president of the Junior Class.

Kendall Doane, Eddie Rogers, and Bob Skeetsmo leave Walter Cook a simple manual of arithmetic and algebra to help him overcome his weakness in mathematics.

To Mr. Rahmlow, we present a tie tac to show our appreciation of the many things, small and large, which he has done for us.

Billy Wales, Paul Setzer, and Gordon Johnson bequeath to Mr. Kowalewski a smock with a handsome title "Keep This Room Neat," to remind the younger students not to make a mess in the art room.

Susan Cameron always talks about being a nurse in the future, Susan Swift, Mary Ellen Grandfield, and Shirley Brown bequeath to her a nursing kit.

To Mr. Hoxie, as his first graduating class here at CSDR, we give him a wallet with a penny for good luck and hope he enjoyed his first year with us.

Orlin FitzHenry and Don Billings leave a special soap to Joseph Leon to help him keep his hands clean.

Pandy Thorsell, Kris Beaton, and Earl Hafer leave a toy Greyhound Bus to Ronald Slobe, their hometown neighbor, as he will have to ride the bus next year and will no longer share in a car pool.

Mary Jane Nelson, Sue Dymond, Irene Acevedo, and Lynda Foshee will to Miss Arbuthnot an excellent quality of hair-spray since she enjoys a neat appearance and a sharp-looking hairdo.

Tom Henes, Frank Scolaro, and Pat Parsley leave their ardent love for basketball to Burton Quartermus and ask him to continue his expertise in shooting.

To Mr. Gover, we are happy to present a stein which is filled with our appreciation, and also our love, for all the help, guidance, and friendliness he has shown us.

Susan Pollock, Joan DeWitty, and Virginia Polich bequeath to Froetter Nelson a small drum since she shows much enthusiasm in beating the one in the Pep Squad.

Shayne Waddell, Marilyn Nitchman, Beverly Mason, and Galt Alvarez leave a fine surfing magazine to Evelyn Brown to add to her growing collection of these magazines.

To Mrs. Scully, who has shown much patience with our antics and demands in the dorms, we present a memo pad to say, "Thank you."

Sidney Kaufman, Joe Rafferty, and Clair Benham give David Strange a toy rabbit as a companion since he runs like a jack rabbit all the time.

In view of Miss Kubotsu's habit of being finicky whenever she sees a little dust in the library, Adrienne Cleva, Margaret Holcomb, and Mona Wingfield leave her a duster.

Chris Hunter and Chris Walters will to Mrs. Carson a bud vase in appreciation of the many times she has given us bouquets of flowers.

Dan Golden, Jim Foster, and David Pastorino leave Carol Visser several chocolate-covered peanut butter cups so that she may save the free coupons inside the wrappings.

To show our appreciation to Mr. Zech for the many ways in which he has helped us, Charles Marsh and Derry Keeshan present him a tie clasp.

Carl Vasquez, John Smithson, and Patrick O'Neil will to Rene Gamache a fast drying glue and screw driver for he always complains about broken electronic parts.

To express our thanks to Mr. Lindholm and Mr. Fisher for the many hours of work they spent in helping us with our yearbook, we present to each a tie, a small token of our appreciation.

Pattie Davis, Linda Lewis, and Judy Huhn bequeath to Sandra Ritter a book, "Count Your Calories," to help her acquire a slim figure.

Francine Lauer and Diane Bates bequeath to Nancy Burrell some perfume, hoping she will learn to like it.

Cathy Blood, Jean Jones, Linda Cummings, and Joan Hersh present a ball and chain to England-bound Cheryl Henderson in hopes we will be able to keep her in our country.

Paula Courtright, Bonnie Witsaman, and Lana McGuire bequeath to Pat Moran a book of basketball rules. They hope this will help her to be a better player.

And last but not least, to Dr. and Mrs. Brill we present, with much love and affection, a framed portrait of themselves, a copy of the picture on the dedication page of our yearbook.
